

Founded by Hywel ap Iorwerth, a Welsh prince and dating back to 1180, the Priory started life as a Cistercian Monastery. As Caerleon grew, the monks wanted to move to a quieter place and founded Llantarnam Abbey. The Priory remained their town house. There is a passage underneath the Priory to the Bull Inn that is rumoured to be the passage the monks used when they met their lovers. The Bull Inn, at that time, used to be the monks' kitchen.

When the monks moved on, the Priory later became a Nunnery, private residence and since 1996, this beautiful building and its secluded grounds have been home to the Priory Hotel and Restaurant.

We want your stay with us to be relaxing, enjoyable and focused on fantastic food. The Priory is the perfect setting to unwind, enjoy the best of locally sourced cuisine, and have a truly memorable stay in the historic town of Caerleon.

CHAMPAGNE HENRIOT

Since 1808, Champagne Henriot, one of the last independent and family-owned houses in Champagne, has pursued a tradition of excellence – a fragile balance between delicacy, intensity, and purity. For seven generations, the family has selected only the very best vineyards, concentrated on the purity of chardonnay and has upheld the utmost respect for time in order to ensure the cuvee has an opportunity to reach its full expression.

The great experience of the Forner family in the wine business and their success in Bordeaux was highlighted when they installed the first new Bodega in Rioja in 50 years. This event brought forth an innovative contribution, that whilst the ample international experience, renewed the definition of traditional concepts of Riojan viticulture as well as the elaboration and ageing methods.

Marques de Caceres elaborate range of perfectly balanced red wines. A rigorous selection of grapes is carried out for the different types of aged wines. Bearing in mind the characteristics of each grape variety and the exceptional areas in which they grow, we maintain the singular values of each harvest avoiding any standard type of elaboration.

The Bodega also pioneered the use of highest quality French oak barrels, substituting the more traditional American oak used in Rioja. It also has one of the largest bottle stocks in the region therefore obtaining perfect ageing of its wines. This innovative spirit is also present in the rest of the range of wines. The Rose, a delicious combination of Tempranillo and Garnacha as well as the Whites made from Viura and Malvasia, are produced using different and appropriate winemaking techniques to extract maximum fruit and character from the grapes grown in superb vineyards, resulting in vibrant, fresh and fruity wines that are exceptionally aromatic.

With 72 hectares, Bodegas LAN produces a modern style of Rioja from predominantly Tempranillo, with Mazuelo and Graciano used for the single vineyard wines.

Bodegas LAN was founded in 1972 and named after the initials of the three provinces in the Rioja Designation of Origin: Logroño (now La Rioja), Álava and Navarra, located in the heart of Rioja Alta. A region, synonymous with tradition and prestige.

The pinnacle of the range, Culmen Reserva, achieved 96/100 points in 'Wine Spectator', and the wines strikes a wonderful balance between the traditional and modern rioja styles. Displaying great depth, maturity and complexity with well-balanced, integrated tannins.

Rias Baixas is the only exclusively white wine DO (Denominacion de Origen) in Spain. Santiago Ruiz with its vineyards in the highly rated sub region of O Rosal, continues to be rated as the best producer in the area, whereas the Duesa Nai offers great value.

It is believed that the Albarino grape was introduced to the area in the 12th century by the Cistercian Monks of the Monastery of Armenteria.

It is often said that childhood shapes an individual's future, and every year from being a boy, Alejandro, following family tradition, learned from his father to make wine using grapes from small vineyards. He is the perfect example of the self-made man. A man who, in his youth, and while holding down various jobs, nurtured his dream of one day running a bodega. However, he had to wait until 1972 to have his own bona fide bodega; a modest 16th century stone-built bodega, from where almost all the winemaking process was carried out.

Pesquera wines are always made from the whole fruit, after destemming. Temperature controlled fermentation lasts two to three weeks. Afterwards, and without clarifying, the grape pulp is directly transferred to an astute and subtle combination of French and American oak barrels that have been subject to various degrees of toasting. Where, in between frequent pump-overs, the wines are left to stand. Tinto Pesquera wines are aged in oak for 18 months while Reservas and Grandes Reservas are aged for no less than 24 months.

Domaine Mazilly Pere & Fils spans over eighteen hectares, is made up of vineyards belonging to various members of the family and has a sound base of Hautes-Côtes de Beaune wines, both red and white. The latter has the distinction of being not made solely from Chardonnay but being 60% Pinot Beurot. Their best red Hautes-Côtes is a vieilles vignes, where the vines are more than thirty years old

They also have holdings in a number of villages on the main Côte, notably in the premiers crus of Beaune: Cent Vignes, Vignes Franches and Motrevenots; Pommard les Pouures, Savigny Narbantons (a plot purchased from Chanson Père et Fils; Monthélie Le Clou des Chênes, as well as village wines in Gevrey Chambertin and Volnay. For white wine they have a holding in Meursault les Meurgers.

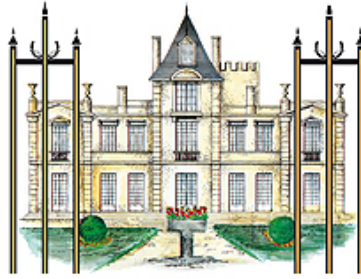

Pierre has been succeeded by his son Frédéric, and he in turn by his son Ayméric and the quality of the wine has improved as each generation has studied wine in greater depth. Ayméric has recently established his own small merchant's business in the village of Meursault. This enables him to buy grapes from neighbouring growers to increase the range of wines he can offer. He has also bought wines at the charity auctions of the Hospices of Beaune and Nuits Saint Georges.

Château du Seuil

GRAND VIN DE BORDEAUX

Château du Seuil was bought in 1988 by Bob and Sue Watts who came from the Vale of Glamorgan. They wanted to show the link with Wales and since that time all our bottles feature the Welsh dragon. Their daughter Nicola and her husband Sean took over the property in 2001 and carry on the Welsh tradition! “We are very proud of our Welsh heritage, and continue on the tradition of flying the Welsh flag!”

In 2015 Chateau du Seuil was lucky to become the preferred wine of the Royal Welsh Regiment and was served to Her Majesty the Queen on her visit to Wales.

Just over forty years ago they were a small company based in Chagny, mainly selling table wine to local restaurants; now they are the second largest wine and spirit group in Burgundy, with wine interests now also in the Rhône and Loire valleys and distilleries in the south of France, the Vosges and Scotland. (They own the top-selling brand of whisky in Ethiopia!)

In Burgundy their expansion began with their purchasing the Château de Davenay vineyards in Montagny on the Côte Châlonnaise and the companies of Geisweiler in Nuits Saint Georges, historically known in Britain for its sparkling wines, and Chandesais. Now, their Burgundy vineyard holdings are centred on three separate domains, each with its own wine-making facility: the Château de Davenay, the Domaine Voarick, based in Mercurey, and the Domaine Michel Picard in the Château de Chassagne-Montrachet, which also house some of the most luxurious bed and breakfast accommodation in Burgundy.

The vineyards attached to the Michel Picard domaine are mainly in Chassagne-Montrachet itself and the neighbouring village of Saint Aubin, but they also include some in Beaune and the prestigious Côte de Nuits grand cru Clos Vougeot. Sadly, though the estate is based at the Château de Chassagne-Montrachet, they cannot call it the Domaine du Château de Chassagne-Montrachet, because the vineyards that previously belonged to the château were sold separately and have retained the right to the name.

Despite the size of the Picard empire, it is still very much family controlled with Michel at the head and his wife Liliane overseeing the financial side of the business and their children Gabriel and Francine seeing to day to day matters.

They say that a good wine needs time to reveal its qualities, but it also needs dedication and constant commitment.

Few products can embody so much expertise and thousands of years of history. Botter can draw on traditions dating back almost a hundred years. It has passed through the careful hands of three generations for whom wine was a passion as well as a trade. They have responded to the constantly evolving market over time, in a process of ongoing expansion.

The company was founded by Carlo Botter in 1928 as a small business selling local Veneto wines in barrels and demijohns. It took its first major step forward with the arrival of the second generation of the family. After the Second World War, brothers Arnaldo and Enzo began selling wine in bottles. They boosted the company's presence on the Italian market and most importantly they began a constant process of expansion in other countries, which would become the company's main source of income.

In the 1970s and 1980s, Botter was able to keep up with the growing international market and expand its range. Some of its Veneto wines were now made on the family land in Motta di Livenza, near Treviso. They were joined by other wines made in the main Italian wine regions, as well as the production and sales of grape juice.

The name Tamaya means “High Scenic Viewpoint”, a word that comes from the dialect of the Diaguita indigenous culture that inhabited the Limarí Valley between the 8th and the 6th centuries BC, in the same place where Viña Tamaya is currently located. Tamaya is also the name given to the highest hill in the area, from where it is possible to view the entire valley.

Pre-Columbian archaeological remains have been found within the property, some of which are the famous “tacita” (small cup) stones as well as other household utensils, all of which make this place an invaluable cultural and touristic heritage site.
